Dear Avish,

Thank you very much for your lunchtime presentation of "Ding Happens!" at the MAAFP Financial Forum.

Your unique and high-energy use of improv comedy to show our group how to improvise, adapt, and innovate was both hilarious and highly relevant to our members.

The feedback was extremely positive and our attendees left the session happy, energized, and with a few things to think about. It was the perfect way to add something different, entertaining, and informative to our day. I would recommend you to any association, conference, or company looking to break out of the box and deal with change more effectively.

Sincerely,

Jane Padgett, CTP
